2. ABOUT THE SUMMIT

The Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit (OES) is a strategic initiative aimed at establishing a structured platform for mentorship, entrepreneurship growth, skills development, and career advancement among Ogoni people. It responds to the urgent need to revive the culture of guidance and leadership continuity disrupted by the tragic loss of a generation of Ogoni leaders.

Designed as an annual event, OES brings together experienced entrepreneurs, career professionals, policymakers, and innovators to empower aspiring youths and professionals across Ogoniland.

Why the Summit Was Conceived

In a meeting with a section of Ogoni intelligentsia on the 4th of November 2025, Chief Lesi Maol expressed deep concern over the economic stagnation, lack of adequate mentorship, and the disconnect between successful Ogonis and young people struggling to find footing in business and professional careers. This summit is his actionable response.

A key model inspiring this initiative is the Nnewi mentorship and wealth creation system, a proven model that has produced hundreds of millionaires through structured apprenticeship, empowerment, and intergenerational support.

The OES aims to replicate this model in a way that fits the Ogoni context.

Vision

To build a resilient, empowered, and economically vibrant Ogoni population driven through transgenerational mentorship, entrepreneurship, innovation, and professional excellence.

Mission

- To provide high-quality mentorship to aspiring Ogonis.
- To equip participants with business, career, and digital skills.
- To promote investment opportunities and market access.
- To build an inclusive ecosystem where women and youths thrive.
- To create a sustainable annual platform for economic and career development.

Expected Outcomes

- Strengthened networks across generations.
- Improved access to business knowledge, finance, and markets.
- Increased awareness of career pathways in the modern economy.
- Foundation for a long-term Ogoni mentorship ecosystem.
- Empowered female entrepreneurs and professionals.

The Convener: Chief Lesi Maol

Chief Lesi Maol is an Ogoni statesman, industrialist, and philanthropist whose life's work reflects a deep commitment to the social and economic transformation of his people. Renowned for his clarity of vision, strategic leadership, and unwavering dedication to community development, Chief Maol has consistently used his influence, resources, and networks to promote empowerment, enterprise, and sustainable progress across Ogoniland.

Raised with strong values of diligence, service, and integrity, he built a successful career in business through perseverance, innovation, and a keen understanding of emerging opportunities. Over the years, he has established himself as a formidable figure in the industrial and commercial sectors, playing a pivotal role in creating jobs, supporting small-scale entrepreneurs, and modelling the possibilities that lie within disciplined enterprise.

Chief Maol is also widely respected for his philanthropic engagements. His initiatives in education support, youth empowerment, community welfare, and skills development have touched countless lives, earning him recognition as a bridge-builder and mentor across generations. He is a passionate advocate for rebuilding the intellectual, economic, and leadership foundations of Ogoni society; foundations weakened by decades of marginalization and the tragic loss of a generation of leaders.

His interest in mentorship and structured empowerment is strongly shaped by his belief that the future of Ogoni depends on restoring systems of guidance, apprenticeship, and intergenerational support. Drawing inspiration from successful community models such as the Nnewi enterprise culture, he is championing a new pathway through the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, designed to nurture a self-sustaining ecosystem of entrepreneurs, professionals, and innovators.

As convener of the Summit, Chief Maol seeks to rally prominent and successful Ogonis, industry leaders, technocrats, academics, and professionals; to share their experiences, open doors to emerging opportunities, and inspire the next generation to break barriers and thrive. His vision is bold: a revitalized Ogoni where knowledge flows freely, talents are harnessed, mentorship becomes a culture, and economic empowerment is accessible to all.

Chief Lesi Maol continues to serve as a beacon of hope, leadership, and transformation; driving an agenda that places Ogoni youths at the centre of a new era of prosperity and collective progress.

About the Speaker: Chief Lesi Maol- Keynote

A Story of Vision, Resilience & Purpose

Chief Lesi Baribera Maol's journey is one defined by quiet determination, bold dreams, and an unwavering commitment to the transformation of Ogoniland. Growing up in a region rich in courage but scarred by years of environmental neglect and leadership loss, he learned early that progress does not happen by chance; people must build it. And he made a choice: to become one of those builders.

From humble beginnings, Chief Maol rose to become one of Ogoni's most respected industrialists. As the founder and Managing Director of Giolee Global Resources Ltd., he built a company that grew from a modest start-up into one of Nigeria's most trusted names in environmental remediation, oil spill response, and ecological restoration. Under his leadership, Giolee has restored contaminated lands, empowered local communities, and introduced global best practices to the Niger Delta; proving that indigenous companies can compete with excellence on any stage.

But his vision has always stretched beyond business. He believes deeply in the dignity of work, the power of mentorship, and the responsibility of every successful son or daughter of Ogoni to lift another. This belief inspired the creation of Satisfaction Food Village, a hospitality venture he established not for profit alone, but to create jobs, stimulate local enterprise, and model the possibilities of home-grown development.

To many, Chief Maol is not just a businessman; he is a lightbearer of hope, a connector of generations, and a firm believer that when young people are given guidance, they can rewrite the story of their land. His philanthropic commitments to youth empowerment, education, and community welfare reflect his conviction that Ogoni's greatest wealth is her people.

As a featured speaker at the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, Chief Lesi Maol brings more than experience; he brings his heart. He brings stories of perseverance, lessons learned from building companies in challenging terrain, and a vision of an Ogoni where mentorship becomes culture, where enterprise becomes identity, and where success becomes a shared legacy.

Chief Maol stands as a reminder of what is possible when vision meets action; and when one person decides not just to succeed, but to lift a generation with him.

About the Speaker: Major General Letam Wugate Wiwa

A Journey of Leadership, Resilience & Vision

Born in Bori, the traditional Headquarters of Ogoni people, Major General Letam Wugate Wiwa grew up surrounded by the legacy of courage, activism, and resilience. As the younger brother of the late environmental activist Ken Saro-Wiwa, his life has been shaped by both the legacy of activism and the demands of national service.

In 1981, he joined the Nigerian Army, embarking on a career that would span over three decades. Rising to the rank of Major General, Gen. Wiwa became a symbol of discipline, strategic thinking, and steadfast leadership. He played pivotal roles in national security, intelligence, and organizational transformation, serving on committees that shaped the Nigerian Army's professional outlook.

Today, Gen. Wiwa channels his wealth of experience into business, law, and consultancy. He is the Managing Partner of Bogana Chambers and Tradecraft Security Consult Ltd, as well as the Managing Director of Barazena Global Services Ltd.

At the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, Gen. Wiwa's story will come alive for the participants, inspiring undaunted career growth and entrepreneurial prowess.

About the Speaker: Prof. Magnus L. Kpakol

A Global Economist, Visionary Leader, and Advocate for Inclusive Growth

Prof. Magnus L. Kpakol is a globally renowned political economist, economic development strategist, and public policy expert whose work spans academia, government, and international consultancy. Born with a deep passion for leveraging knowledge to transform communities, Prof. Kpakol has dedicated his career to poverty eradication, human capital development, and sustainable economic growth.

He is the Chairman and CEO of the Economic Growth and Development Center (Economic Center), an independent international organization committed to industrial and technology-driven economic development, global partnerships, and shared prosperity. At the Economic Center, he leads the Total Economic Development Training Program and organizes global study tours for professionals, policymakers, and business leaders. He is also the Chairman of Economic and Business Strategies (EBS) Ltd, a consulting and management company producing initiatives such as the popular international talk show Magnus Kpakol GvA and the One Shout Security App. Both organizations are headquartered in Dallas, Texas, with African offices in Abuja, Nigeria.

Prof. Kpakol's career bridges public service and private sector excellence. He served as Chief Economic Adviser to President Olusegun Obasanjo and as National Coordinator of the National Poverty Eradication Program (NAPEP), shaping policies that fostered inclusive growth and national development. Prior to his government service, he led the international business and economic research unit at JCPenney Company in Plano, Texas, and founded VIJONS International, a consulting firm specializing in real estate, corporate finance, and strategic business development.

An accomplished academic, Prof. Kpakol holds a Ph.D. and MA in Political Economy from the University of Texas at Dallas, an MS in Labour Economics and Industrial Relations from the University of North Texas, and a BS in Liberal Arts from the University of Wisconsin, Superior. He has taught economics, international business, macro and microeconomics, public economics, and global business at universities in the United States, Canada, and Nigeria, impacting generations of students and professionals.

His expertise has been sought by numerous international institutions, including the United Nations Development Program, and he has been featured in leading publications such as The Wall Street Journal and USA Today. Through his work, Prof. Kpakol continues to champion economic empowerment, global competitiveness, and generational wealth creation, particularly in Africa.

At the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, Prof. Kpakol will bring unparalleled insight into economic growth, entrepreneurship, finance, and global business strategy. He will inspire participants with lessons drawn from decades of international experience, bridging theory and practice to show how Ogoni youths and entrepreneurs can thrive in today's global economy.

About the Speaker: Dr. Gbene Joy (Joi) Nunieh

A Vocal Voice, Servant Leader & Champion of Ogoni Cultural Identity

Born into a family deeply rooted in Ogoni heritage, Dr. Gbene Joy "Joi" Nunieh has always carried in her spirit both the urgency of advocacy and the calm strength of principled service. As a lawyer, public servant, and community leader, she has navigated the difficult terrain of public institutions with courage, resilience, and an unwavering commitment to her people.

Dr. Nunieh is best known for her courageous tenure as Acting Managing Director of the Niger Delta Development Commission (NDDC), where she confronted entrenched corruption, suspended wasteful contracts, and refused to compromise the commonwealth of the Niger Delta people. She challenged the status quo; even when powerful voices demanded silence because she believed that true service demands more than rhetoric: it demands sacrifice.

Dubbed "The Esther of Ogoniland", Dr. Nunieh has proven herself a peacemaker and a bridge-builder, deeply passionate about the welfare of her people. Her legacy is one of standing firm amid pressure, defending accountability, and ensuring that institutional interventions benefit the marginalized, not the privileged.

Her journey is not without its up and down, but it is precisely her willingness to speak truth to power, to defend her integrity and the interests of her people, that makes her story powerful and deeply resonant.

At the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, Dr. Nunieh will stand as a moral compass and a voice for courageous leadership. She will share her personal journey, lessons in principled governance, and her vision for empowering women and communities in Ogoniland. Her presence is a call to action: that entrepreneurship and development must also be grounded in accountability, justice, and service to the community.

About the Speaker: Sir (Dr.) Leesi Gabriel Gborogbosi

A Visionary Leader, Strategist, and Champion for Youth & Community Development

Sir (Dr.) Leesi Gabriel Gborogbosi was born in Barako, Gokana LGA, into a family deeply rooted in faith, education, and community service. Son of the Very Rev. Gabriel A. Gborogbosi, he was instilled early with the values of integrity, discipline, and service, principles that have guided him throughout his life.

Dr. Gborogbosi's journey of excellence began with a strong academic foundation. He earned a BSc in Accountancy from the University of Nigeria, Nsukka, an MBA in Finance and Banking from the University of Port Harcourt, a Master's in Research Methodology and doctoral degrees in Strategy and Business Studies from IE Business School, Madrid, Spain, and is currently pursuing another PhD in Management at the University of Port Harcourt.

His professional career spans more than three decades, distinguished by transformative leadership in both public and private sectors. Early in his career, he worked with the Rivers State Ministry of Finance and Economic Planning and the University of Port Harcourt's Bursary Department, before joining Shell Nigeria, where he managed multi-billion-dollar upstream oil and gas projects, including the Southern Swamp Associated Gas Solution Project (SSAGS), Forcados Yokri Integrated Project (FYIP), Otumara, Adibawa, Agbada, and Assa North Gas Projects.

At Shell, he held senior positions including Project Finance Manager, Deputy Business Finance Manager, Head of Business Controls and SAP Compliance, Deputy Manager of Corporate Budgeting and Reporting, and Finance Consultant on Transformation and Process Improvement. He was instrumental in:

- Delivering operational efficiency, cost savings, and revenue growth through strategic finance management
- Implementing world-class financial controls, governance, and compliance systems
- Leading knowledge management, investment appraisals, and strategic planning for a culturally diverse global audience
- Developing innovative solutions in budgeting, contract management, and risk mitigation

Beyond corporate strategy, Dr. Gborogbosi is a Certified Management Consultant (CMC), Fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nigeria, member of the Institute of Management Consultants, Chartered Institute of Procurement & Supply, London, Nigerian Institute of Management (Chartered), and the Strategic Management Society, Chicago, USA. He has contributed to the Strategic Management Society's Special Committee on Diversity and Inclusion and chaired sessions at international conferences on change leadership.

Dr. Gborogbosi is also deeply committed to social impact and community development. He is the Founder and Chairman of the Gborogbosi Foundation, Kilsi United Football Club, and the Rivers of Our Dreams Initiative (ROODI), championing youth empowerment, women leadership, good governance, and social cohesion. He has actively mentored political aspirants, sponsored peaceful civic engagement campaigns, and even contested gubernatorial elections in Rivers State (2019, 2023), demonstrating his belief that leadership is both a right and a responsibility.

At the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, Sir (Dr.) Gborogbosi will share insights drawn from decades of experience across finance, strategy, operations, and governance. He will inspire attendees to build sustainable businesses, develop strategic skills, and engage in community-centered leadership.

About the Speaker: Prof. Ndowa N. Lale

A Scholar, Leader & Transformative Voice for Knowledge and Growth

Prof. Ndowa N. Lale is a distinguished academic, researcher, and institutional leader, whose story bridges scholarship and service.

Born in Ogale-Eleme, Rivers State, Prof. Lale's passion for learning led him to pursue higher education in crop science, culminating in a First-Class B.Sc in Agriculture (Crop Science) from the University of Maiduguri and a Ph.D. in Agricultural Entomology from the University of Newcastle upon Tyne in the U.K.

As an academic, he has built a legacy of excellence in research and teaching. He is a Professor of Entomology in the Department of Crop and Soil Science at the University of Port Harcourt, where his work has helped shape both the scientific community and the next generation of scholars.

Prof. Lale's leadership transcended the lecture hall when he was appointed 8th Vice-Chancellor of the University of Port Harcourt in 2015. During his tenure, he championed a bold vision: strengthening academic structures, enhancing infrastructure, and building a culture of innovation, scholarship, and discipline. Under his watch, the university significantly improved its digital connectivity, driving research productivity and accessibility in ways that continue to benefit students and faculties.

Beyond administration, Prof. Lale is deeply committed to community impact and sustainable development. He has served on national bodies, including TETFund's Screening & Monitoring Committee, supporting the funding of research and higher education development. His passion for mentoring, capacity-building, and the integration of science and governance makes him a natural advocate for education-driven economic transformation.

At the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, Prof. Lale will inspire participants with lessons on agribusiness, research, leadership, and how knowledge, when combined with purpose, can fuel economic renewal and community progress.

His work spans education, ethical governance, and social development, from managing scholarship programs to advising on state educational policies, and contributing to social cohesion during crises such as COVID-19.

He also serves on multiple boards and committees, including Veritas University, Abuja, LadyBird Educational Center, Port Harcourt, and Jesuit Memorial College, Port Harcourt, reflecting his commitment to nurturing excellence and integrity in institutions across Nigeria. Through his life and work, Msgr. Kii exemplifies a balance of faith, scholarship, and service.

At the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, he will share insights on ethical leadership, governance, and the role of education in driving social and economic progress.

About the Speaker: Professor Barineme Beke Fakae, DVM, MSc, PhD

A Visionary Educator, Administrator, and Advocate for Sustainable Development

Professor Barineme Beke Fakae is a distinguished scholar, seasoned administrator, and visionary leader whose work bridges academia, community development, and human capacity building. He holds a PhD from the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, earned as a Commonwealth Academic Scholar, and has an extensive track record in veterinary science, education management, and institutional transformation.

Prof. Fakae began his illustrious career as a Veterinary Parasitologist at the University of Nigeria, Nsukka, where his research and teaching inspired a generation of scientists and practitioners. Later, he applied his expertise in leadership and institutional management at the Rivers State Polytechnic as Rector and the Rivers State University of Science and Technology (Now Rivers State University) as Vice-Chancellor, implementing ICT master plans, infrastructure improvements, and academic reforms that restored order, strengthened performance, and prevented institutional decline.

Beyond academia, Prof. Fakae serves as a consultant to the United Nations on environmental and health programs and is a Director at Nifirst Ltd, providing consultancy, training, and human capacity development for a wide array of clients. His influence extends to numerous professional bodies and learned societies, earning him fellowships such as Fellow of the Academy of Natural Sciences and Engineering, Nigeria (FANSEN), and Fellow of the Nigerian Society for Animal Production (FNSAP).

Prof. Fakae's leadership is also rooted in service and faith. He is the National Secretary of The Apostolic Church Nigeria, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Pan Niger Delta

Forum (PANDEF), and a mentor to young leaders across Nigeria. He has been recognized with multiple awards for his contributions to education, research, and community development.

At the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, Prof. Fakae will share insights on leadership, sustainable development, and the strategic use of technology in education and business.

About the Speaker: Tudor Ben Mikko

A Renewable Energy Visionary and Environmental Advocate

Tudor Ben Mikko is a Nigerian entrepreneur, engineer, and environmental innovator, widely recognized for his work in renewable energy and sustainable development. Hailing from Gokana Local Government Area, he combines deep technical expertise with a commitment to transforming energy access and environmental stewardship in Nigeria.

Mikko earned his B-Tech in Physics and Electronics from the Federal University of Technology, Minna, and later obtained an MSc in Energy and Environment from the University of Leeds, UK, as a Commonwealth-trained scholar. These academic foundations underpin his work in solar PV and battery storage systems, electric mobility, waste-to-energy, and broader sustainability initiatives.

He began his career at Shell Petroleum Development Company, where he supervised environmental restoration projects in Ogoniland, implementing key emergency measures recommended by the United Nations Environmental Programme (UNEP). He helped remediate contaminated sites, engaged communities on pipeline safety, and promoted environmental awareness in Eleme, Khana, and Gokana Local Government Areas.

Mikko has served as Director at Torrent Energy Limited, providing renewable energy solutions and advancing waste-to-energy initiatives. Since 2016, he has been the Co-Founder and CEO of Bartum Energy Limited, a pioneering renewable energy company delivering clean, decentralized off-grid energy solutions for homes, businesses, and institutions across Nigeria. Under his leadership, Bartum Energy has executed landmark projects, including MoUs with state governments for large-scale waste-to-energy and recycling initiatives.

Mikko's expertise spans the design and implementation of sustainable energy systems, renewable power integration, energy efficiency, and environmental technology deployment. He is particularly noted for bridging international best practices with practical solutions for local communities, addressing both technical and social challenges in energy and environmental management.

At the Ogoni Entrepreneurship Summit, Tudor will share his journey, inspiring attendees on the importance of innovation, sustainability, and social responsibility in business, demonstrating how technical expertise, vision, and dedication can create economic opportunity while protecting the environment.
